Yuca en Escabeche

Yuca en escabeche (Puerto Rican yuca salad) is a wonderful side dish with a zippy dressing made with oil, vinegar, onions and garlic.

TOTAL TIME
40 minutes

Ingredients

- 1 pound fresh or frozen yuca
- 2/3 cup extra virgin olive oil
- 1 onion, sliced (white, Spanish or red)
- 2-3 cloves of garlic, minced
- 4 tablespoons white vinegar
- 2 heaping tablespoons green olives stuffed with pimientos
- 2 tablespoons sliced pimiento (optional)
- Salt and pepper, to taste

Instructions

- Bring a large pot of water to boil. Salt the water and add yuca, making sure yuca is completely covered with water. Bring to a boil again, then lower heat and continue boiling for 20-30 minutes. Yuca will begin to split and lose its opaque color.
- Drain and rinse the yuca. Remove the woody, stringy centers of the yuca and discard. Cut the yuca into 1-inch chunks and place in a large bowl; set aside.
- In a medium pan over low heat, simmer the olive oil and onions until softened but not brown, about 5 minutes. Add the garlic and vinegar and simmer for an additional minute; remove from heat.
- In a large bowl, combine the yuca, oil mixture, green olives and sliced pimientos (if using). Season to taste with salt and pepper. Taste and add additional vinegar if you would like it with more zip.

- Let sit for at least 1 hour before serving.
